

FALL 2020: ETHICS AND THE 2020 ELECTIONS

POLITICAL PROTEST AND THE 2020 ELECTIONS

IN TIMES OF GREAT SOCIAL UNREST, WHAT ROLE DOES POLITICAL PROTEST, SOMETIMES USING VIOLENCE, PLAY IN OUR ELECTIONS? JOIN US FOR A DISCUSSION OF THE ETHICS OF POLITICAL PROTEST FEATURING:

WED, SEPT 2, 2020, 3:30-4:45PM

“What a Protest Should Look Like: Civility and its Discontents”

Candice Delmas, Associate Professor of Philosophy and Political Science and the associate director of the Politics, Philosophy, and Economics Program at Northwestern University. She received a Ph.D. in philosophy from Boston University, an M.A. in philosophy from Georgia State University, a Master 2 in ethics and politics from Université Paris IV Sorbonne, and a B.A. (Licence and Maîtrise) from Université Paris X Nanterre. Her work in moral, social, political, and legal philosophy has appeared in many academic venues.

“Rejecting Protest Narratives”

Natasha Lennard, New School for Social Research, author, and journalist. She is a columnist for The Intercept and her work has appeared in The Nation, Esquire and The New York Times, among others. She teaches critical journalism at the New School For Social Research in New York. She is the author of Violence: Humans in Dark Times (City Lights 2018, with Brad Evans) and Being Numerous: Essays on Non-Fascist Life (Verso, 2019)

“Narratives of Nonviolence and Spontaneous Rebellion: Correctly Categorizing Armed Resistance in the Black Freedom Struggle.”

Akinyele Umoja is a Professor of African American Studies, Georgia State University. He is a historian and organizer born from the Black Power movement and Black Studies tradition of the late 1960s and early 1970s. He received his Ph.D. from the Institute of Liberal Arts, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia in December 1996. He received his Masters of Arts, Institute of Liberal Arts, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, in August 1990. Umoja is committed to writing the history of the Black Freedom Struggle, but also participating in the fight to make a better world. He has been active over forty years in the Black Liberation Struggle.

FALL 2020: ETHICS AND THE 2020 ELECTIONS

POLITICAL PROTEST AND THE 2020 ELECTIONS

IN TIMES OF GREAT SOCIAL UNREST, WHAT ROLE DOES POLITICAL PROTEST, SOMETIMES USING VIOLENCE, PLAY IN OUR ELECTIONS?

WED, SEPT 2, 2020, 3:30-4:45PM

UPCOMING EVENTS:

— details at ethics.gsu.edu —

- Wed 9/9, 3:30-4:45: "Health Care Access and the 2020 Elections"
- Wed 9/11, 2:00-3:30: "Empathy and Structural Injustice in the Assessment of Patient - Noncompliance." Yolonda Wilson, Howard University
- Date TBA: "Ballot Access, Voter Suppression, and the 2020 Elections"
- Date TBA: "Vote with Your Hands or your Feet?"
- Date TBA: "The (In)Significance of Voting: a Panel Discussion"

See ethics.gsu.edu for updates.

Questions? Contact D.C. Hardaway at dhardaway1@gsu.edu

THESE EVENTS ARE SUPPORTED BY GEORGIA HUMANITIES AND CAMPUS PARTNERS AT GSU INCLUDING THE JEAN BEER BLUMENFELD CENTER FOR ETHICS, THE CENTER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRACY, THE OFFICE OF CIVIC ENGAGEMENT, THE CENTER FOR STUDIES ON AFRICA AND ITS DIASPORA, THE DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY, THE CENTER FOR LAW, HEALTH & SOCIETY, THE GSU PROGRAM IN PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, AND ECONOMICS.

